Preparing for 2012 and beyond...a

"RE-INTRODUCTION TO YOUR COSMIC IDENTITY AND RESPONSIBILITY"

Learning to see without eyes ...

While everyone is watching and waiting for 2012 with great anxiety for not knowing what is coming at us ... We note and await with great urgency, knowing that we must return to the rhythm of the cosmos, so that we can prepare and take advantage of this new cycle that comes and will take us to 2012 and beyond.

We are re-introducing "The Ancient Mexika Chronological System: a human experience to personal transcendence, commonly known as the Aztek and Maya Calendars. In an effort to manifest the potential and the responsibility inherent in that piece of time that I was born in, which was year 6 House and the day 1 Flint, I invite you to a "re-introduction to your cosmic identity and responsibility " where we can correlate your birth date and time with the ancient manuscripts which will show us your place in the cosmos.

Our grandparents teach us that "... the first step toward true education is self-awareness, recognizing the qualities and aptitudes one already possesses ..."

Cosmic identity is not based on the color of your skin, eyes or your hair nor your nationality or place of origin, but is based on the date and time of your birth, when one takes that first breath of life. This moment is then correlated to the old calendar system of our ancestors developed on this continent (hemisphere) that came to culminate in what is commonly known as the Mayan and Azteka calendar system. This system is recognized by modern science to be the most precise measurement of time, ever developed.

This is the Ancient Mexika Chronological System since it was completed and emanates from what was then the center of the Confederation of the Eagle and the Condor, Mexiko Tenochtitlan, and today's Mexico City.

This information of the celestial mechanics was obtained after thousands of years, covering thousands of miles spanning the continent and with the participation of thousands of peoples. This then became the law of the land that was based on the law the cosmos in a perfectly balanced duality... of being; at the same time both an individual and part of the cosmos. Throughout the continent, our peoples further developed their calendars to their own environment, but never losing the common theme of the rhythms and cycles of the moon, Venus, and the apparent movement of the Sun as seen from Earth, which correlate with the cycle of human gestation. These calendars were developed with the express purpose of helping human beings to remain aligned and in harmony with nature to the rhythm of the cosmos for a more productive life.

We find evidence of this in Deganawidah in Onondaga (Canada) and the planting of the Tree of Peace which invites all men and all nations to seek refuge under that tree if they are willing to respect the "Great Law of Peace". We find it in Mexico also in the Toltek teachings and concepts of Ketzalkoatl, which means "precious twin"; it is the Maya Kulkulkan, and "In Lakech" which means that you are my other self, also recognized as Gugumatz and finally it is Viracocha in Machu Picchu (Peru).

In summary, they developed a cosmic profile for each piece of time and each child was so recognized and his name was akin to its cosmic identity, which would eventually lead to their responsibility because of their potential. We can return to that rhythm now. Incidentally, the second express purpose this calendar was developed was so they may teach their children to live a permanently just and happy life, recognizing that to make others happy is the means to happiness and that justice means justice for all.

Unfortunately, like most of our wisdom and our cultural inheritance which was then considered "new world", this information has been misunderstood, as it was only discovered and analyzed and reported according to the perspective of the "old world". While many disciplines and good schools of thought have emerged from a lot of this knowledge for hundreds of years, yet the depth of the psychological human value that is buried deep in its symbolism is still under debate among "experts." Worse yet, we as human beings are failing to take full advantage of this knowledge and wisdom of cosmic proportions that can lead us towards a more harmonious and peaceful co-existence with each other and the environment that surrounds us.

I offer this study to develop your "Birth Codex" reading the original Codex Borgia (now at the Vatican Library) in personal consultations, family or for your organization or school. We can work together to continue the preparation for 2012.
